

Lightbringer

EUROPEAN /US PATENT ATTORNEY

Lund, Sweden (Hybrid)

Lightbringer is an innovative solution provider for patent service technology, aimed at transforming the collaboration between inventors and patent attorneys. Leveraging the power of generative AI and drawing on deep expertise in the patent industry, Lightbringer's software streamlines and expedites the entire drafting process. This is a chance to become part of a unique entity like no other in the history of IP.

As Lightbringer is operating across a variety of scientific disciplines, with clients from various fields, then this role can be suited to any technical area, from biology to mechanics!

From this role, you will:

-  Access the variety of clients that private practice exposes an attorney too.
-  Continue developing your substantive skills and expertise in the most efficient manner, supported by AI tools.
-  Master the more intricate, high-level strategic elements of patent work – operating as a valued in-house IP advisor to your clients.

You will achieve all of this, whilst also playing a key role in Lightbringer. As the first appointment of its kind, you will contribute to the development and growth of Lightbringer and its customers, alongside growing interest in the tools that are offered to support patent work across the globe. So, what are you waiting for? Contact Lightbringer's executive search partner, MWA, to discover more.

MWA is delighted to support Lightbringer with the placement of this unique position. If you would like to learn more information about the role or apply for the position, then please contact Rachel Atkins on rachel@mwaip.com.
