

Paralegal

Stockholm, Sweden

Do you want to join an award-winning, top-tier European IP Firm?

We are a leading European full-service intellectual property practice. With offices in the UK, Sweden and Denmark, we are well-known for handling some of the most complex and challenging patent and trademark cases, and we are well-regarded for successful prosecution, opposition and appeal work. Our proven excellence has made it the European firm of choice for several global giants, household names, universities and SMEs, as well as smaller companies and individuals all of whom wish to benefit commercially from their investment into intellectual property.

Why join?

- We offer a work environment that provides a unique combination of British and Scandinavian values;
- You will have the benefits of a small, growing office paired with the infrastructure of a larger firm;
- You will be exposed to an exciting range of clients and challenging trade mark case as well as other IP matters;
- There is the opportunity to build long-term relationships with direct clients;
- You will be given independence and client responsibility at an early stage;
- Flexible working policy / remote working options / maternity leave / parental leave tailored to meet our employees' needs;

The role:

As a paralegal, you are the hub of the firm and you are part of a highly professional group of people. Located at the Stockholm office, your success in this position will be derived from your ability to apply your experience in providing paralegal support to the attorneys and to interact with individuals and organisations involved in the IP process. You have the ownership to your day-to-day case duties, you will have the opportunity to influence the working procedures, and it will be your self-motivation and input into the role and the firm which will see your career grow within this leading intellectual property practice.

You will have:

- Appropriate qualifications and related experience within a Law/IP or Corporate Law/IP office or department with a focus on trade mark practice.
- Proficiency in Microsoft Office software applications.
- Excellent English language skills - other languages, especially Scandinavian languages, would be beneficial.
- A passion for working in a client-oriented and commercially focused team.
- An interest in being part of a growing and forward-looking firm.
- Excellent communication skills.
